Opportunity!

SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY PRICE: $11,250 per industry-supported discussion

Each discussion reaches up to 500 IARS Online Community participants with the sponsor determining the target audience.

Are you thinking about digital, omnichannel, durable physician engagement? IARS has an online community, hosted by DocMatter, to enable our industry sponsors to engage our global anesthesiology community in all of these ways. DocMatter is a unique engagement platform currently used by large and small life science companies and over 250,000 specialist clinicians and researchers around the world.

ABOUT THE IARS ONLINE COMMUNITY IN DOCMATTER

The IARS Online Community is a powerful online forum of 17,000+ anesthesiology specialists in over 121+ countries (8,500+ who engage regularly), delivering year-round healthcare professional engagement, mentorship and networking opportunities. Fostering expert-led dialogue and very high quarterly engagement levels, IARS community participants are further subclassified in channels based on expressed interest in topic areas like perioperative anesthesiology, critical care medicine, cardiothoracic anesthesia, obstetric anesthesiology, trauma anesthesiology, transplant anesthesiology and patient safety, allowing for educational programming to be targeted to relevant anesthesiologists.

Online Community by the numbers:

15. NON EXHIBITING REPRESENTATIVES

IARS does its best to protect all conference participants from solicitation from companies who do not have the proper authorization by IARS to do so. This activity is commonly referred to in the exhibition industry as "suitcasing." To maintain the integrity of IARS' exhibitor and sponsor rules, any conference participant found soliciting business in the exhibit hall, event function space, hotel guest room or hospitality suite, restaurant, club, or any other public space during an event will be required to either pay that event's prevailing exhibitor or sponsor fees as determined by IARS or leave the event immediately without receiving a refund. Please note membership in IARS will not be considered when determining whether an individual has engaged in suitcasing, and second-time offenders will receive an immediate 12-month ban from future events. IARS asks that any violations that are observed are reported immediately to IARS staff.
